

Media Release

8 June 2010

Willoughby Way @ Marree Picnic Races

The Great Australian Outback Cattle Drive's Boss Drover, Bill Willoughby, will be in action showcasing his horsemanship skills at the Marree Picnic Races this June long weekend (12-13 June).

A horsemanship clinic will be held by Bill for young riders. The aim of the clinic is to help riders improve their general horsemanship skills and have a better understanding and a more enjoyable and safer experience with their horse.

Topics covered will include: personal safety, horse selection, riding and training theory, control and discipline, working your horse on cattle.

The Marree Picnic Races, Gymkhana and Bronco Branding is a fun-filled family event, presenting an opportunity for horse and rider to showcase the skills they need to have and use in everyday station life.

Looking for a taste of Outback action ahead of The Great Australian Outback Cattle Drive, then the Marree Picnic Races is an event not to miss.

- What: Willoughby Way Horsemanship Clinic for Young Riders
2010 Oz Minerals Marree Picnic Races, Gymkhana and Bronco Branding
- When: Saturday 12 June 2010 and Sunday 13 June 2010
- Where: Marree, Outback South Australia

The Great Australian Outback Cattle Drive (30 July – 29 August 2010) is the ultimate Outback holiday. Climb into the saddle and herd cattle along one of Australia's most evocative stock trails, the Oodnadatta Track, passing through inspirational landscapes and collecting a swag of adventure stories along the way.

For further information, images and interview opportunities with the Boss Drover contact Michele D'Aloia on 0417 837 896 or michele.daloia@bigpond.com

Australian Government
Department of Resources
Energy and Tourism

South Australia
A brilliant blend.